As Scotland is a fairly small country, you can arrive at most of the major airports (Glasgow International, Prestwick, Inverness and Edinburgh) all located within 90 - 120 miles of Ecopod.

By Car

We are located in Appin which is halfway between the major west coast towns of Oban and Fort William on the A828.

From Glasgow, follow signs for Dumbarton and take the A82 north via Loch Lomond. From Tyntrum (50 miles) take the Glencoe road and on arriving at the Ballachulish Bridge, take the A828 signposted Oban. We are located 12 miles from here. Total distance is approximately 90 miles.

From Edinburgh, take the A8 then the M9 signposted Stirling. Leave the M9 at junction 10 signposted Crianlarich. Continue on this road which will merge into the A85 then the A82 signposted Oban/Fort William. Take the A828 as above on arriving at the Ballaculish roundabout. Total distance is approximately 120 miles.

By Train

Scotrail runs a three-times daily service from Glasgow Central station to Oban. Journey time is 3.5 hours. From Oban, Citylink and West Coast Motors run a bus service to Appin.

By Bus

Citylink runs a three-times daily bus service from Glasgow Buchanan Street Bus Station to Oban. Journey time is 3 hours.

By Seaplane

Quite a different way to travel, Loch Lomond Seaplanes operates a service from the River Clyde in Glasgow to Oban. Journey time is 1 hour.
